

Jenny Pitman OBE New President of Ponies (UK)

Ponies Association (UK), have gone outside the ranks of the showing world for their 2010 Association President.

The Board are delighted that the passionate trainer of racehorses Jenny Pitman OBE has agreed to take on the role.

Jenny's love of horses has dominated her life, she commenced her career working in a racing yard in 1975 and was first lady to be granted a professional trainers license of racehorses. Through her training career, she trained two Grand National winners, 3 Welsh National winners, the Scottish, Midland and the Irish Nationals plus 2 Cheltenham Gold Cup winners.

In 1999 Jenny retired from her career training racehorses, and has successfully entered the literary world; with 2 autobiographies published and several novels on the bookshelves, her love and involvement with horses has seen her take on this important role as the President of Ponies Association (UK).

Ponies (UK) are an inclusive association, whose activities are centred around the diverse sport of showing. Many of the UK's international eventing, show jumping and dressage stars began their careers within the showing at Ponies (UK); Including the Burghley event pony where Jenny's sister horse Ironman Muldoom qualified in the SEIB Racehorse to Riding Horse HOYS qualifier. A very emotive Jenny watched when the combination took the title at HOYS.

Ponies Association (UK) welcomes Jenny on board.
